

august 15th, 2020

it was august 15 2020
all over the world there was sadness and worry we couldn't go out
we couldn't have fun
i missed all my friends
i missed everyone

the house felt empty, even though we were there and then he arrived, like a breath of fresh air.
since i was young i wished upon a star that someday a friend like him would come.

that who would always be there
from beginning to end
i love him
My furry friend.
